Re-elect Antioch Officials; Woman Is Treasurer

Mrs. Vera Rentner, Treasurer, Receives High Vote

Votes ranging in number from 81 to 83 Tuesday returned Antioch's incumbents to office in one of the quietest elections ever held in the village.

The one newcomer to local social circles is Mrs. Vera R. Rentner, who was elected treasurer to succeed Russell Barnstable. Incidentally Mrs. Rentner received the highest vote—83.

Lack of opposition is accounted for through the fact that there was no important issue to be brought before the voters and the generally satisfactory manner in which the affairs of the village have been conducted by the present officials.

The vote was unanimous except for president and police magistrate, the name of Dan Boyer being written for president, and J. D. Drom received one "write in" vote for police magistrate. The tabulated vote follows:

WILTON RE-ELECTED HEAD OF GRADE SCHOOL BOARD

Rentner and Laursen Win Over Elmer Hunter and Mrs. Elms

Robert J. Wilton again heads the Antioch Grade School board of education as president for the coming school year, and Henry J. Rentner and Arthur Laursen will serve three year terms as board members as a result of Saturday's balloting in the annual election.

President Wilton, without opposition, received 228 votes for re-election. Laursen received 190 votes and 185 marked for Rentner. Mrs. Edith J. Elms received 52 votes and Elmer Hunter, 47. One vote was cast for Robert King whose name did not appear on the ballot.

Ask Injunction Against Cedar Lake Association

Charging that the Cedar Lake Park association has wrongfully prevented three property owners in the Villa Park subdivision from using the beach, boat pier and park set aside for common usage, a petition for an injunction has been filed in the Lake County circuit court. The subdivision is partly in the village of Lake Villa.

The petition was filed by Stella T. Hintz, Bernadine Benson and the Oak Park Trust and Savings bank. Mrs. Hintz asks $20,000 damages from George Gilbert, Walter H. Rodemacher and Helen Malsner, officers of the association.

The petitioners charge that the property restrictions in the subdivision, owned originally by Frank T. Fowler and acquired in 1922 by the Hintz-Benson interests, reserve the lake park for all property owners. Nevertheless, they charge, the Cedar Lake association has refused to permit three property owners, Joseph Mack, James M. Bubna and Joseph Malech, to belong to the association or use the beach and pier.

Our Youth—the Real Issue

The Antioch High School Board of Education faces a difficult situation—a situation made doubly difficult through interference with orderly action, circulation of misinformation, wilful suppression of pertinent facts, and sensational and adverse publicity.

The paramount issue in this, or any school, is the proper training of youth that they may become the useful citizens of tomorrow. When that purpose is cast aside to make way for politics, intrigue, petty jealousies and favoritism, then the cause of education is defeated. And the sufferers?—Youth.

During their terms of office, school board members are called upon to make many important decisions, some of which are made difficult through the lack of pertinent facts. Facts, all the facts, will clarify any situation and indicate a correct decision. It is only when facts are withheld or distorted that decisions become difficult and make logical and just conclusions almost impossible.

The part of loyal citizens is to support the school board—the people's elected representatives to administer the affairs of the school. Its members are intelligent, and their efforts should not be hampered by the introduction of any interests that are foreign to the welfare of the school. It is realized that the present somewhat strained conditions call for calm and deliberate action on the part of board members, and it is hoped that they will receive loyal backing from the community in their effort to obtain the facts and that they will act with complete candor in making their decisions.

It is believed that every member of the local high school board has the welfare of the school at heart, that they are sincere in their convictions regarding its best interests, and that they will act wisely in guiding the course of the community's greatest asset—its youth.

ZONING BOARD HOLDS HEARING IN ANTIOCH

Permission to convert an 80-acre tract of land lying west of Channel Lake into subdivision lots was granted to Leon S. Sex Company by the Lake County Zoning board at a hearing held here Thursday in the village hall. According to the petitioner the land will be divided into home-sites of approximately 9,000 sq. ft., improvements will be made, residences will be erected and offered to the public as permanent homes.

Sex, a builder who has operated in promotion for several years in McHenry and Lake counties, purchased the land six months ago from Mrs. Sarah Kriebel. The tract is known as the Bohrn farm. There will be no business building erected on the premises, according to Sex. There were no objectors to the petition.

Presiding at the hearing was John J. Hogan, chairman of the Zoning board. The members are Tom R. Wyles, of Highland Park; Earl Kane, Mundelein; David L. Van Patten, Wadsworth; Ray B. Dixon, Gurnee, and Leo Fenlon.

Due to the practice of advertising such hearings in publications that are far from the property and owners involved, many of the hearing have a very meager attendance, as was the case of the meeting here Thursday. Supervisor Barney Naber, who was present at the hearing, says he favors the use of local papers announcing the hearing to be held by the board so that property owners will at least be given an opportunity of attending.

When the question was asked why the announcement had not appeared in the Antioch News, Supervisor Leo Fenlon volunteered the answer: "Cause 'tain't a legal newspaper." The News editor asked that august official to define a legal newspaper. Fenlon was silent.

The services were held in St. Peter's church, with burial in Mt. Carmel cemetery.

Six Rescue Squad Members Receive Advanced Ratings

Six more members of the Antioch Rescue squad have passed examinations for advanced certificates, in addition to Capt. L. D. Powles and lieutenants Herman Holbek and Herman Rosing, who already held the advanced ratings.

Those now receiving their advanced certificates are Walter I. Scott, R. F. Almer, John Horan, Clarence D. Shultis, Einar S. Petersen and James McMillen.

The series of training classes for the advanced ratings was conducted by Rosing, who has been designated as an official Red Cross first aid and rescue work instructor. Examinations were conducted by Holbek, chairman of all first aid and rescue work training activities in the western half of Lake county for the Waukegan and Northern Lake County chapter.

The Antioch squad is now one of the largest and best-equipped civilian units of its type in the state.

Red Cross Supervision Keeps Antioch Man Busy

Busy these days arranging for classes in Red Cross first aid instruction to be held in various communities of central and western Lake county is Herman Holbek, who has been placed in charge of Red Cross first aid instruction, examination and practice in this part of the county.

An official outline of Holbek's duties has been released at the offices of the Waukegan and Lake County chapter's offices.

Holbek is instructed to "contact all groups in that district desiring instruction in first aid, assist them in organizing classes, arrange for instruction, and will have charge of examining classes in that area."

All groups in the western part of the county are instructed to contact Mr. Holbek if they desire an instructor in first aid and the instructors in turn are instructed to notify him at least a week in advance of the date of an examination in order that he may assign an examiner.

Principal R. E. Clabaugh will go to Chicago Saturday where he will preside over the meeting of the Representative Assembly of the Lake Shore Division of the Illinois Education Association at the Sherman hotel. P. T. A. SUMMER ROUND-UP WILL BE CONDUCTED MONDAY

Check-up of Pre-School Age Children Will Be Held at Grade School

The annual summer roundup of pre-school children sponsored by the Antioch Grade School P. T. A. will be held Monday, April 21, from 9 a. m. to 3:30 or 4 p. m.

The children to be examined are divided into groups of 7 or 8, so as to reduce waiting to a minimum. The first group will be examined at 9 and the last one will assemble at 2:30 o'clock.

The roundup includes a thorough physical check-up and dental examination of children who will enter school in the fall, and for any children now enrolled in the first and second grades who have not as yet had such an examination. Only children who will be six years of age before Feb. 1, 1942, will be eligible for school next fall, and hence for this examination. A check-up is also held after school starts.

The advantages of holding these examinations in the spring include the fact that any handicaps found, such as a child's need for glasses, or dental care, may be corrected over the summer months, without the loss of school time. No corrections or inoculations are made at the time of the roundup, which is limited to examinations. Parents are, however, requested to be present with their children.

Dr. R. D. Williams will have charge of the physical examinations and Dr. E. J. Lutterman of the dental examinations.

Mrs. Elaine Wharton, county nurse, will be present.

On the P. T. A. committee for the roundup are Mrs. Roy Kufalk, chairman, Mrs. Henry Rentner and Mrs. Earl Pitman.

They will be installed at the County P. T. A. school of instruction at Lake Villa.

Mrs. Trieger will act as representative from the local organization to the state P. T. A. convention in Springfield.

The Rev. Frank Butterworth of Gurnee was the speaker of the evening, in place of Elizabeth Wells Robertson, art director in the Chicago city schools, who was unable to be present.

Rev. Butterworth's topic was, "What Makes Our Modern Youth Act the Way They Do?"

The "room count" of parents attending the meeting went to the mothers of first grade pupils.

Rhythm band selections were given by the first and second grade pupils.

The First National Bank of Antioch was winner of the large candy punch bowl, elaborately decorated and filled with Easter candy. A huge Easter egg, also attractively decorated, went to Robert Mann.

Both pieces, which had been on display in the window of Ted's Sweet shop for a week previous to the announcement of the awards Saturday evening, had been greatly admired. They were made by Poulos especially for presentation to the rescue squad.

Mr. and Mrs. William Arnold and daughter, Gertrude of Petite Lake, Frank Kintzel, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Ginsbock of Chicago were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Portwich.

Mrs. Charles Kempf and Mrs. George Malecka of Petite Lake spent the week-end at Green Bay, Wis.

H. S. BOARD DECRIES FURORE CAUSED BY VON HOLWEDE CASE

Maplethorpe Elected Pres., Mrs. Osmond Secretary; Board in Session Today

A Maplethorpe was again chosen president of the Antioch High School Board of Education at the organization meeting of the board held last night. Mrs. Helen Osmond was re-elected secretary.

The reorganized board reconvened today to investigate incidents in connection with the demonstrations that have been staged by students during the week. The board suspended 29 students until Monday for participating in and fomenting undesirable student demonstrations.

H. C. Engle, secretary of the Illinois state board of examiners, is expected to come to Antioch the latter part of this week or early next week to arrange for a continuance of a hearing on charges that education credits of the German and music teacher at Antioch Township High school, Hans von Holwede, had been incorrectly entered on records here and elsewhere. Engle has stated that he has been instructed by the board to call for the renewal of the hearing not later than April 29.

Continuance of the hearing was granted in order to make possible the attendance of the Antioch High School principal, J. O. Austin, who has been seriously ill at his home, or to arrange for a substitute.

Austin was unable to attend a hearing called in Springfield by the state board a week ago today. This hearing was the outcome of a train of investigation started two years ago when the school board requested that all teachers file transcripts of credits and qualifications in the principal's office.

Complicated by considerable unfavorable publicity in newspapers published in other communities and not directly interested in the welfare of the Antioch area, and by the introduction of personal feelings and demonstrations, the investigation has, the Antioch high school board feels, been lifted into undue and far-from-helpful prominence.

Students Hold Demonstrations

Demonstrations have included threats of sit-down strikes on the part of high school students; attempts to intimidate witnesses who were called from Antioch to Springfield by the state examining board; a demonstration Tuesday night at the home of Coach R. H. Childers, who was thought by some of the students to have suggested the examination of von Holwede's credits; a "walk-out" of some 40 students at the high school Wednesday afternoon as the result of a fight that started when some favored and some opposed circulation of a petition; and impromptu indignation meetings of students on Main street during the early part of Wednesday evening.

(In connection with the student demonstrations against Coach Childers, it is pointed out that in all the somewhat voluminous files and correspondence relating to the case, Childers' name is not mentioned.)

School board members in meetings last night and today expressed regret that personal feelings and outside influences should have been brought into a more or less routine investigation that had partly been made necessary by the fact that two years ago, after

Benefit Wrestling Card Postponed Second Time

The annual Firemen's wrestling and boxing demonstrations, which were to have been held April 30 as a benefit for the rescue squad, have again been postponed, and probably will not be held until some time in June, according to James McMillen, chairman of the athletic committee.

The show had already been postponed from an earlier date, owing to difficulties in securing a card of headliners, since many of them had been signed up for big shows in Chicago and Elgin.

The demand for wrestling talent is expected to continue through May, making it difficult to arrange for a first-class program before some time in June.

The Public Attitude Clarifies

The Gallup poll, in one of its most recent probings of public attitude, asked one question that brought forth a particularly interesting response. The reaction of the American people to this query really gives occasion for more than casual thought.

Here is the question raised by the noted pulse-taking group:

"Do you think industrial (business) leaders are helping the national defense production program as much as they should?"

Of those who had an opinion, 62 per cent felt that industrial leaders were co-operating to the top of their ability, and only 38 percent were of the opposite view. Meanwhile, answering queries concerning other aspects of defense, the public was considerably less pleased with the way that certain others were doing their part of the job.

It is particularly stimulating to realize that industry has won this public acceptance without fanfare. It has been plugging away every possible moment of each day turning out articles to make this country safe, while its critics have had plenty of free time for carping. Yet the American people have wisely chosen to recognize and approve deeds, not words.

Since earlier polls, during the depression years, showed no such confidence in industry, this situation has its deep meaning for those who will ponder it. Our history shows us that confidence in industry, a belief in its ability to accomplish the aims set for it, is the prerequisite for America's moving ahead. In the production of peacetime goods, this was the case; industry brought the nation the highest standard of living any society anywhere has ever known during generations when it received the benison of public good will. It is reasonable to expect that, with the same measure of confidence, it can effectively produce the national security that is our most pressing need.

It would seem to be the case that an emergency has served to bring about the clearest public vision. The destructive critics who had their fun at the expense of the "builders and doers" in former periods do not gain the public ear in times of stress. It is not, of course, pleasant to reflect that it takes a world crisis to bring about this state of affairs. But the condition itself, from every vantage point of national welfare, is devoutly to be desired.

Strikes in Defense Industries

Nobody knows for sure what the future holds as far as strikes in defense industries are concerned. But Washington is sure that whatever happens will be as important as any other single piece of news that breaks during the months lying immediately ahead.

One school of thought holds that strikes will ease off in the near future, apparently taking heart from the early efforts of the new Mediation Board. Another school suspects there will be a decided increase. They base this in part upon their feeling that the CIO will try to anticipate an expected "crackdown" by strengthening itself with as many new members as possible—a little after the fashion of the fellow who drove his car at 60 miles an hour because he wanted to get home before he ran out of gas!

Lake Co. AAA Committee Seeks Goal of 90% Sign-up

A goal of at least 90 per cent participation by Lake County farmers in the National AAA farm program has been set by the county agricultural conservation committee. C. A. Faulkner, chairman, announced.

Present season records covering 1936 at the 24th farms in the county, show that 97 of the number contracted for or 40 per cent, so far have shown their intention to participate in the program.

Effective adjustment of farm production and conservation of the soil require managerial ability, in fact, many of our farmers are co-operating with the AAA, the right, a last year's record at 70 per cent of Illinois farms participating in the program.

It would take over 95 per cent participation in the national farm program to avoid the need for marketing quotas on wheat and corn this year, the county AAA chairman declared. Marketing quotas would require nonparticipation to store all grain produced in excess of production under AAA allotments.

Marketing quotas are expected as a result of the huge supplies of corn and wheat. The supplies have accumulated because of low foreign markets, and crops in recent years, and weak adjustment features of the 1936 and 1937 AAA programs.

Continued adjustment of farm production to assure farmers of fair prices has become even more important due to the war situation. Mr. Faulkner pointed out. Farmers were still suffering from old problems before these new ones were added. The old problems include over-expansion of the farm plant which traces back to the addition of 40 millions acres in World War days, the replacement of crop eating livestock by machinery, and greater farm efficiency. This increased production has been accompanied by reduced markets, especially foreign markets.

GOOD POULTRYMEN WATCH FOR DANGER SIGNS, EXPERT SAYS

Success with Chicks Comes From Knowing What to Do and What Not to Do.

Most modern highways are protected by signs that warn of sharp curves, rough pavement, detours, and intersections. Careful drivers watch for these danger signs and react to avoid trouble.

"But many poultrymen are not so careful about heeding chick danger signals," says J. H. McAdams, poultry specialist with Purina Mills. "Thousands of baby chicks are hatched and bought each year. Their owners risk in their future profits. They risk their hard-earned money with the hope that it will return a fine profit. This they have a right to expect," McAdams says, "since it represents the investment of money to make money.

Practical Safeguards
"But many experiments with thousands of baby chicks at the Purina Experimental Farm show that poultrymen have to herd certain chick danger signals to make their investments pay. To raise chicks profitably they must be kept alive and in a thriving condition," McAdams explains.

"Diseases and parasites, of course, are the most common enemies, so the most important precaution in defending chick investments is to follow a program of sanitation by prevention rather than cure. Brooder houses and equipment should be thoroughly scrubbed with a good cresol solution, using one-third cup of Purina Creso-fec to one gallon of water. Brooder stoves should be set up and fired three to four days before chicks arrive so as to be sure they are in proper working order. A temperature of 92° F. should be maintained near the stove for the first few days, after which the heat may be reduced to 80 or 85 degrees.

Appetites Increase
"As chicks grow, their appetite for feed increases. The cost of feeding a brood of day-old chicks is very slight, but the cost of feeding five or six weeks old chicks often develops into a problem. Poultry raisers have been known to ruin their chances of making a profit on an entire brood of chicks by changing during the critical growing period to what they thought was a cheaper way to feed—making the change because they had not figured ahead the amount of growing feed that a brood of growing chicks would need to develop properly.

"Ventilation, too, is important. As chicks grow older their bodies throw off more heat. Here is a flashing danger signal! Keep their bodies cool. Hot and steamy, they lose vitality. Coccidiosis or colds are almost sure to result."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

S. S. Lesson for April 20

USING WITNESSING POWER

LESSON TEXT—Acts 2:1-4; 4:8-20.
GOLDEN TEXT—They were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spoke the word of God with boldness.—Acts 4:31.

In the right place at the right time and in the right attitude—these are unfulfilling conditions of divine blessing.

Note also how fitting it was that on that Sunday morning—evidently in the upper room—the disciples were "with one accord in one place," ready for the great gift of power and grace for life and ministry which God had for them, and through them for the world. One wonders what might happen today if Christian people would be in God's house on the Lord's day, in complete accord and unity, expectant, looking for His blessing.

I. The Holy Spirit Poured Out (2:1-4).

"We are not to imagine that at this Pentecost He first came into the world. In all ages He had been imparting life and guidance and strength and holiness to the people of God; but He was now to work with a new instrument, namely, the truth concerning a crucified, risen, ascended, divine Saviour. For the proclamation of this truth the Church was the appointed agent. The story of Pentecost, therefore, is the first chapter in the history of the Church as it witnesses for Christ, and it embodies the impressive lesson that in all successful witnessing the power is that of the Spirit and the instrument is the message of the gospel."

The outpouring of the Spirit on the day of Pentecost was accompanied by signs of great power, and a special endowment which enabled all the strangers in Jerusalem to hear the gospel in their own tongue. "This ability to speak in foreign languages not previously learned was merely a temporary endowment granted for a special purpose. It was one of those miraculous spiritual gifts which marked the age of the apostles. In modern times the claim to possess this power has never been established on credible evidence, nor is the dominance of the Spirit in the life of a believer to be tested by the presence of any special gift" (Charles R. Erdman).

II. Mighty Works Performed (4:9).

Reference is made here to the healing of the lame man—a miracle which resulted in the imprisonment of Peter and John. It was a work of power, but only the first of many which the disciples were to perform.

An even greater work was that of the Spirit-filled preaching of the gospel which brought 3,000 souls into the church (2:41). As we marvel at that event, we need also to keep before us the recurring day-by-day miracle of the regeneration of individuals (2:47). This was, and is, accomplished through the teaching of the Word (2:42).

III. True Witness Presented (4:8-12).

The rulers and leaders (especially the skeptical aristocrats of that day—the Sadducees) were angered by the proclamation of the resurrection of the One they had crucified. They also feared that their rich revenues from the temple might be cut off if the people were to follow Christ (4:4), so they took the disciples into custody and brought them before the Sanhedrin.

Humanly speaking, one might have expected these men to stand in fear and awe before that august body, and either become dumb with terror or brazenly defiant. But such is not the operation of the Holy Spirit in a man. They spoke tactfully, but boldly, of the death and resurrection of the only One in whom there is any salvation.

IV. Faithful Though Persecuted (4:13-20).

Not being able to make any real charge against the disciples, the rulers let them go, but only after threatening them and forbidding them to speak any more of Christ. They, like so many religious leaders of today, were quite willing that the disciples should preach, if they would only leave out the name of Christ.

Note the answer in verse 19. There is only one message (v. 12). "Neither is there any other name under heaven, that is given among men, wherein we must be saved"; thus Peter asserts not only that the miracle has been wrought in the name of Jesus Christ, but that he and his judges can have eternal salvation in no other name. His words are at once a rebuke, a challenge, and an invitation. They need to be reviewed and weighed today by certain benevolent but superficial talkers who are asserting that Christianity is only one among many religions, and that it is only necessary for one to be sincere in his own belief. Such teachers must reconcile their statements with those of Peter and John, who were "filled with the Holy Spirit" when they declared that there is but one name wherein we must be saved."

Tuberculosis Association Joins National Campaign

On every side emphasis is being placed on national health as a vital part of national defense, and in line with this is the nation-wide Early Diagnosis campaign being held throughout April by the National Tuberculosis association.

The Lake County Tuberculosis association, which is participating in the campaign, is making every effort to see that its month-long educational campaign is not only a definite "defense measure" for individual, but for the community and for the nation.

Tuberculosis is the No. 1 killer of persons between the ages of 15 and 45. These are the young, active, productive years of life on which our individual security depends. And these are the very years on which national security and survival depend.

The treachery of tuberculosis—it can be in an advanced stage before any symptoms appear—presents an obligation that every person owes not only to himself and to his family, but to his associates, his community and, in the end, to his country. That obligation is: Make sure you do not have tuberculosis!

The slogan of this year's Early Diagnosis Campaign is—"A Good X-ray Is Your Doctor's Best Aid in Discovering Early Tuberculosis."

The Lake County Tuberculosis Association is distributing posters relative to the Early Diagnosis of Tuberculosis throughout the county, and literature will be available through self-service boxes in prominent places.

Since the first of the year the Association has conducted tuberculin testing surveys in the Gages Lake school, Grant Community High school and Waukegan Township High school. The Lake Forest High School and the Highland Park school are scheduled for surveys during the month of April.

The chest clinics of the Association are held at the Lake County Tuberculosis Sanatorium on Wednesday and Friday mornings from 8:30 to 11 A. M. New patients are requested to make appointments with the office of the Association, Majestic 1805.

Zion Passion Play Opens Sixth Annual Presentation

The 1941 season of the Zion Passion Play which began Sunday, April 6, in the auditorium at Zion, will continue until June 29, with the presentations every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock Chicago time, and on Thursday evenings, June 12 and June 28, at 8 o'clock, Chicago time.

The Passion Play was presented for the first time in 1935 and has been given every year since with the exception of 1938, when there was no presentation because of Shiloh Tabernacle and consequent loss of all Passion play equipment the year before.

During the five seasons in which the play has been given, it has grown from an ordinary church production to a passion play of international importance, and is often called "the Oberammergau of America."

It was written and directed by a young minister of the Christian Catholic church, the Rev. Jabez Taylor of Zion, who traveled in 1935 through Palestine, Syria and Egypt to gather sketches and photographs used for the costumes and scenery.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Miller visited relatives in Chicago on Easter Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Gunnarson entertained relatives at their home at Sand Lake last Sunday.

The Boy Scout dinner and Court of Honor at the church Monday evening were well attended and very interesting. Following the dinner prepared by the Scout mothers, Mrs. Madison and Mrs. Bloom, assisted by Scouts, the program was held in the church auditorium, with talks by the Rev. MacArthur, Clifton Speers of the Scout Council, and Edward Lempke who spoke on baseball and answered questions. Rev. Mrs. Leo Barnstable and Mrs. Paul Avery, Sr., attended the state convention of Royal Neighbors at Decatur, Ill., Tuesday and Wednesday this week, as delegates from the local camp. The local fire department was called out twice Saturday afternoon for grass fires. The first was at the Woodman home near Fourth Lake, off Grand avenue and was quickly subdued, but the second one was larger, and in the low land adjoining the Maier garage, in the Thorn subdivision, when a grass fire got beyond control in the heavy wind. There were several cottages in the path, but the garage was in greatest danger because of the gasoline and oil. The high wind drove the flames across the road, so the firemen were kept very busy for a time.

Mrs. William Weber will give a public luncheon party at her home Friday afternoon for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid society. Playing begins at 2 o'clock and everyone is welcome.

Why does a Golf Ball bounce?

EVER notice that a golf ball, when you drop it, bounces higher than something hollow, like a tennis ball?

That's partly because of internal pressures, which also have so much to do with Buick's extra FIREBALL power.

Rubber threads inside a golf ball are packed tight, highly compressed. When flattened against a hard object, like a sidewalk, they come back harder, with more push, and so the ball bounces higher.

A similar thing happens inside a Buick FIREBALL straight-eight cylinder.

Fuel compression pressures are higher here than in any other standard-production automobile engine.

So when the spark jumps in the tightly-packed, fuel-fat ball of gas-mixture at the top of the stroke—the Buick piston goes rushing down with more push, more shove, more power than the same amount of fuel gives up elsewhere.

Result: every Buick engine travels farther per gallon this year than the same-size engines did last year, while Compound Carburetion* with Buick FIREBALL design gives as much as 10% to 15% more miles per gallon.

In fact, if you're buying any car this year, it's pretty important to see and drive a Buick before you're through; it's Number One in smart engineering as well as Number One in solid, rock-bottom, all-round VALUE!

VON HOLWEDE CASE....

former principal L. O. Bright left, school records were discovered to be incomplete, and partly by the necessity for re-evaluating credits earned by von Holweide in German schools in terms of American college credits.

Hills Re-elected

Meanwhile, Walter K. Hills, board member of many years service, was returned to office without opposition at the annual election held Saturday afternoon at the high school.

The entire personnel of the board takes a sensible attitude toward the situation expressing belief that the present difficulty will be worked out through orderly processes. In fairness to all members, among whom it is admitted some differences exist, the News invited each one to submit any comment he wished to make as an aid in clarifying the situation in the minds of the public.

President A. Maplethorpe, who last night was chosen to again head the board at a meeting held at the high school, declined to make any comment regarding the situation which he characterized as "bad"; but he did say he believed that everything would be settled in an orderly manner.

Petty Speaks

Superintendent W. C. Petty told the News today that Von Holweide's certificate had been issued in good faith and that he would not recommend its revocation by the state board. He said he would allow the teacher to make up the credits in which he is deficient and that von Holweide had enrolled in Northwestern university for a summer course in which this would be accomplished.

Board member, Paul Chase, on leave from guard duty at the Kankakee River arsenal near Elwood, Ill., told the News that he would have to obtain further facts before expressing an opinion.

Walter Hills said he had nothing to say until the board had completed its investigation.

J. W. McMillen's version of the controversy is carried in a written statement appearing in this edition of the News.

Mrs. Helen Osmond, secretary, re-appointed to that position by the board, expressed the belief and hope that a speedy and satisfactory readjustment of the affairs at the high school would be accomplished by the board. Mrs. Osmond has been intimately connected with the high school for many years. "We have a fine school plant, the best of equipment, and I am proud of it," Mrs. Osmond said. "There is no just reason why the school should not function as it should function—as an inspiration to our youth and a credit to our community."

BOARD MEMBER MAKES STATEMENT

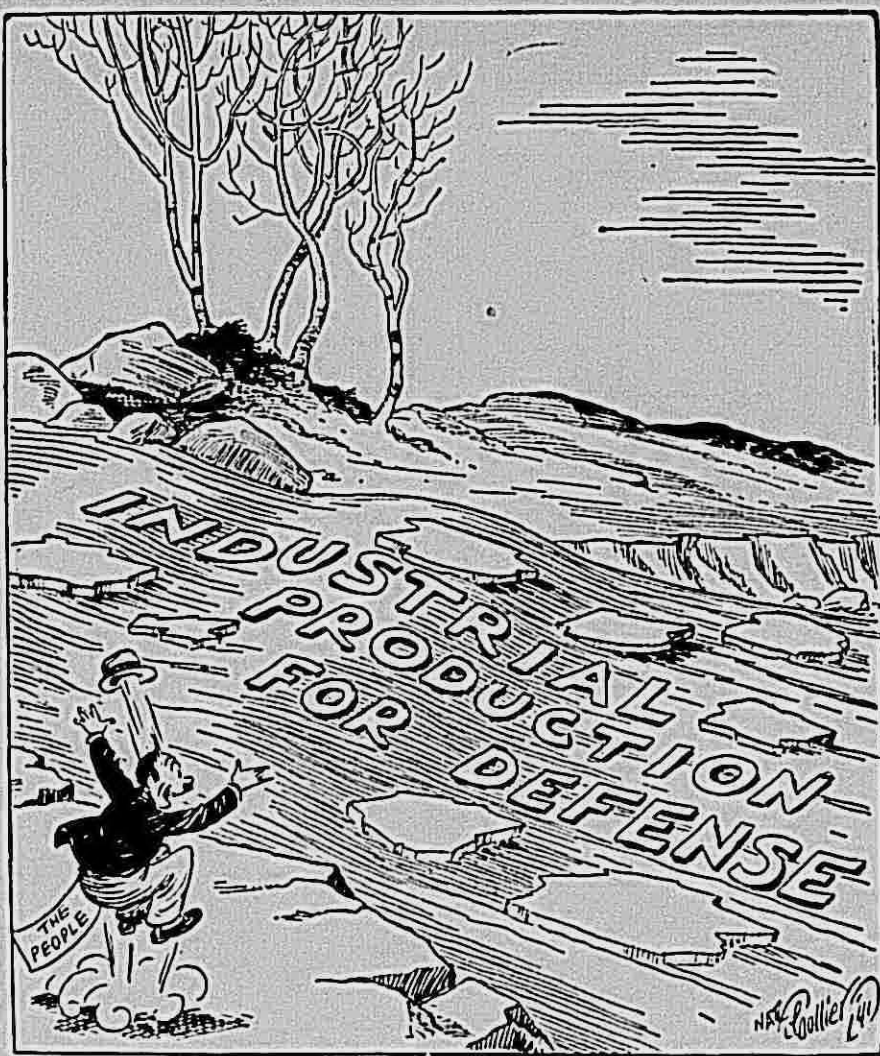

By J. W. McMILLEN

There seems to be a great deal of discussion about this case by persons who do not know the facts. Here are the facts. The teacher in question taught a subject in the high school seven years, from 1933 to 1940, without being certified by the state, which is absolutely contrary to school law as enacted by the Illinois State Legislature. I submitted evidence to the State Examining Board last April 19 one year ago, showing that the teacher had been teaching a subject without a certificate in that subject, and furthermore that the teacher has never qualified for any type of certificate at any time due to a deficiency in English credits. Yet on May 1st, the night of a board meeting for the purpose of hiring teachers, a wire was presented from C. H. Engle, of State Board of Examiners, to W. C. Petty stating that the teacher's credentials had been checked thoroughly, and that he was qualified to teach both music and German. This appeared to me as purely a political gesture engineered by the County Supt., who has displayed an unusual amount of interest in this case. My beliefs were confirmed when on June 21st I received a letter from Mr. Engle saying that the teacher's certificate had been filed in pending an examination in English. The English examination was given by the County Superintendent, who was within his rights in doing so, but it is my opinion that it was an unethical thing to do, because of the close personal friendship existing between the teacher and the County Superintendent. Before school started last fall, a new certificate was issued by the State and everything seemed to be in order. However, the fact can not be overlooked that this teacher was paid illegally from 1933 to 1940.

There are some people in the community who still were not satisfied, and requested the State Department to have a diploma from a Prussian seminary evaluated, inasmuch as this diploma was presented at the American Conservatory of Music as credit for work toward a degree. The State sent the Diploma to the U. S. office of Education at Washington for evaluation. This happened in November. Finally on March 12, 1941 the State Department once more requested the County Superintendent to return the teacher's certificate because of lack of credits.

Now I have been accused of engineering the hearing which was held at Springfield last week. That is not true. It was done at the request of persons who were not satisfied with the way this case has been handled. However, I do say that I approved of getting all the facts before the State Board, and when my wife called me in Nashville, Tennessee, saying that she had been invited to attend the meeting I requested her to go and take my correspondence on the case for presentation. As the matter stands now the case has been continued until Mr. Austin recovers from illness. I believe the State Board will render a fair decision when they have all the loose ends gathered in.

As far as local conditions are concerned, there are certain people, I am sorry to say, who would like to see the school disrupted, because of personal differences, or because of misinformation, and are encouraging students to stage demonstrations of protest. This is wrong and unfair to the students, the school principal who is sick in bed, and to the community. The thing will finally be settled by the State and local boards of education and not on the streets or in the newspapers. It's high time personalities and politics are divorced from school problems.

(Signed) J. W. McMILLEN.

In case you've been wondering who was the horticultural or floricultural expert responsible for all those nice plants in the Antioch post office window, it's Miss Daisy Richards. Summer visitors generally stop and admire them considerably . . . as do most of the rest of us.

This fine weather has certainly been bringing out the baby carriages and one and two-year-old toddlers. Look up or down the main drag any hour of the day and you'll see a half dozen or so assorted little tots being aired. . . . kinda cute, too, some of 'em. . . but the boys in the sidewalk onlooker brigades say they like the babes a bit older . . . there's just no pleasing everybody, it seems.

Ted's Sweet shop, where some of Ted Poulos' candy masterpieces are on display, was the "cynosure of all eyes" last week. Some of the show pieces of the show window included a large cross, decorated with candy flowers and two huge candy baskets, flower decorated and candy-filled. . . .

"Snow" Nelson is back home out of the hospital, now, on crutches. He having been over in Victory Memorial ever since his accident just after the Xmas holidays. Kind of a big piece out of a person's winter, when you stop to think of it. . . . to go into the hospital while the Yule lights were still shining, and come out to find the grass starting to turn green.

Mr. J. C. James, our faithful reader, has been in to tell us where we can get the kind of a calendar we said two or three weeks ago or so that we wanted. Now we want some contributions for the Observer, on account of spring fever has got us.

Lake Antioch, erstwhile scene of winter sports, really looks like a lake these days. We ain't ben down to see if there are any ducks on it yet. . . . we'll let you look.

Picayune observation—it irked us in a minor way to note a reference in a Waukegan paper the other day to "the Mmes." For the benefit of any "Mmes." who might be interested, that little abbreviation stands for "Mes Dames" (pronounced may-dahm), meaning "My Ladies," and the "the" is unnecessary. . . . Just thought you'd like to know, that's all.

Some friends of ours were threatening (mildly), to "mob" us the other day, and wanted to know what we'd do. After due reflection, and likewise some pondering, we decided we'd just look lady-like and make 'em feel ashamed of themselves.

Mrs. Elmer Hunter and Mrs. O. E. Hachmeister attended O. E. S. Friends' night at Grayslake Tuesday evening. Mrs. Hunter served as guest of honor.

Ladies of Wesley Circle met with Mrs. B. R. Burke Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. A. P. Bratrude gave a book review.

The Antioch Woman's club held a board meeting at the home of the secretary, Mrs. E. J. Hays, Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Alice Freeman spent the Easter vacation in La Grange with her friend, Mrs. Hattie Marzahn.

N. E. Sibley of Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, spent the week-end with his family in Antioch.

Buttermilk Rolls

Are you interested in a recipe for light, delicate hot rolls? This one is made of buttermilk, and is extremely easy to make, and still very white and tender, with a delicious flavor.

1 cake compressed yeast
2 tablespoons lukewarm water
3 cups buttermilk
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
About 9 cups flour.

Soften the yeast in the lukewarm water. Add to buttermilk and mix well. Add enough flour, about 3 cups, to make a smooth, thick batter. Beat a few minutes. Cover and let rise in a warm place until light and fluffy. Cream sugar and shortening together. Add to raised batter. Beat until well blended. Sift salt, soda, baking powder with remaining flour. Add to sponge. Mix thoroughly. Make into desired shape and let rise until light. Bake at 425° F. for 12 minutes.

Old Fashioned Gingerbread

Is there ever anything better to eat than gingerbread? Here's the recipe for Old Fashioned Gingerbread:

2 1/2 cups cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ginger
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon allspice
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
1/3 cup molasses
3/4 cup hot water

Sift the flour, baking powder, salt, soda and spices together. Cream the shortening and sugar thoroughly. Add eggs beaten and molasses. Add dry ingredients alternately with hot water. Beat thoroughly. Pour into well greased pan and bake at 350° F. 30 minutes.

Sour Cream Cake

In case you have a little sour cream in the refrigerator, you might use it up in this fashion—

1 egg
1 cup sugar
1 cup thick sour cream
1 1/2 cups cake flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon lemon extract.

Beat egg with rotary beater; add sugar; beat until fluffy. Add sour cream and beat well. Sift the flour, baking powder and soda together. Add dry ingredients together with the first mixture, in several portions. Beat well, bake in greased paper-lined pans, for 25 minutes in 375° F. oven.

Fly specks may be easily removed from varnished wood by rubbing with a cloth wet with a solution of equal parts of skimmed milk and water.

Training For Defense

By Rufus T. Strohm

Dean, International Correspondence Schools

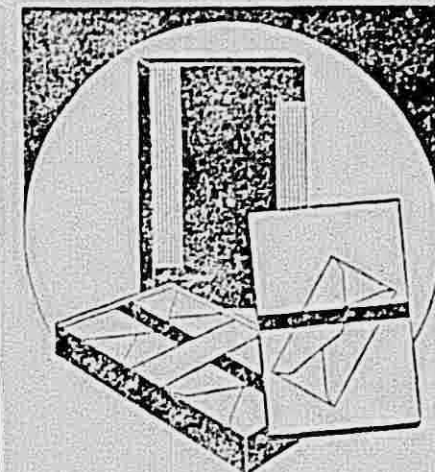

THE shifting of workers from one job to another so that they can acquire new skills and handle several different jobs in one plant, if necessary, is called "upgrading." Experienced personnel managers say this system keeps men from going stale, improves morale, insures skilled labor for all operations, and frequently produces all-around skilled men for foremen and other top production jobs.

Short refresher study courses are being used increasingly to hurriedly train men and women for industrial jobs. Many such courses, supplied by various institutions are financed by the government. Other study courses are financed in part or entirely by employers.

The cry is for skilled men, and the supply is far too short in some industries now engaged in national defense projects. Some educators are confident that plenty of skilled labor can be trained for the defense program if employers will realize that they can no longer hang out a "help wanted" sign, but must arrange their operations to utilize specialized skills and then take the time and trouble to train new workers for these skills.

We have stepped almost overnight from a surplus of workers to a shortage of workers, especially skilled and semi-skilled workers.

Recently one of the nation's foremost educational authorities said: "We will have the task of convincing parents and children that a high school education may, and probably should, lead to a machine gun rather than a desk."

FIELD WORK TRAINS DOGS FOR THE HARD PACE OF THE HUNT

Every fall there comes that certain day when the haze hangs low and there's a smoky tang in the air. All bird hunters love it and wait for it—opening day. From then on dogs have a big job to do, and they must be in good condition to stand the pace. Every year it is becoming harder to have hunting dogs fully hardened and conditioned when the season opens. This comes largely from three causes:

First, stricter and stricter laws require that dogs be kept closely penned up. They don't have the exercise they used to get throughout the year.

Second, many hunters live in cities and towns and every year they must go out farther from home to find birdy places to work their dogs before hunting season.

Third, most hunters live in sections where birds are much more scarce than they used to be. Their dogs must work longer and at a faster pace to find game.

A proper, well-balanced feed like Purina Dog Chow can do a lot to build up a dog to meet these conditions. But no feed can do the job without a reasonable amount of hardening exercise. The hunting dog should have a good work-out two to three times a week, beginning at least a month to six weeks before opening day.

If at all possible, the work-outs should be conducted in fields containing some birds. Under such circumstances he gets accustomed to birds, and is stanch on game when the season opens. It is wise to take a check cord along, if the dog appears to need it, and restrain him when he finds birds until he gets over his wildness.

The work-outs should not last over 15 or 20 minutes at first and may be as long as an hour or more as opening day approaches. They should always be given in the cool of the early morning or evening so as not to overheat the dog.

If field work is out of the question, a dog can be worked into good condition by letting him run beside the car. Take him to a secluded road that is not too hard or full of sharp stones, for pavement will quickly wear or tear the pads of a soft dog. For the first couple of weeks, take it slowly. After a few weeks he can stand 15 minutes of slow running and 10 minutes of fast going, with several short rests. If at any time during the hardening period his pads get sore, let up and take it easy until his feed are toughened in.—From Purina Mills "Hunting Dog Book," obtainable at a nominal charge wherever Purina Dog Chow is sold.

Hitler's Spring Drive Into Balkans Follows Usual Pattern of Nazi 'Blitz' As Greeks and Yugoslavs Fall Back; Axis Powers Register African Gains

(EDITOR'S NOTE:—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union)

EL AGHEILA, LIBYA.—Beyond this Nazi armored tank waves a swastika from a building in this Libyan coastal town. Since the Nazis joined the Italian troops in the Libyan sector previous sensational successes by the British have been wiped out and much territory formerly won is now in axis hands.

BALKANS: Nazi Power

The sudden onslaught of the Nazi troops on five fronts against Yugoslavia and Greece came with terrifying swiftness and in the early days of the conflict it was evident that a delaying action was the most that the Greeks could offer, and that the Yugoslavs, prepared mentally, but unprepared physically to resist, could do little but harass the advance of the invader.

Hungarian troops were also ordered to enter Yugoslavian territory separated from Hungary after the war of 1914-1918.

Events moved swiftly in those first few days. Immediately the city of Belgrade, perilously close to the border, and in the center of a plain, was declared an "open city" and that the Yugoslavs would not defend it.

However, the first act of the Nazi bombers was to deliver a series of assaults on Belgrade, closely followed by similar attacks on Sarajevo, Nis, Zagreb and other points of military importance to the invading army.

The attack on Belgrade may or may not have put the city entirely hors du combat, but the immediate effect was to shut off all communication with the outside world, and that caused the reports of the early phases of the new war to be fragmentary and conflicting to the utmost degree.

One heard that the Yugoslavs were invading neighboring countries, had taken Fiume, were bombing Sofia—and in the same breath the Germans claimed the capture of Nis, the razing of Belgrade, the cutting of vital railroad lines.

Only the British reports seemed to carry conviction, together with those from Athens. The former predicted a general withdrawal, and the latter told how that withdrawal was being carried out.

But from the start it had been expected by this country that Salonika would be defended, and that the British had 150,000 to 200,000 troops in that general neighborhood, and were prepared to make a serious defense of the port.

Then the British announced that Salonika might fall, and gave rise to the general belief that perhaps the British forces were not so numerous or so strong as at first stated.

Suddenly came the word that the British had only 60,000 to 90,000 troops on the scene, and that they were in the second line of defense, "ready to veer to east or west as the situation demanded."

This was the answer to the dispatches of the first few days, which did not reveal the British in contact with the enemy at any point. They were, in this report, placed in the vicinity of Katerine, which put them somewhat in the center, between two main forces of Greeks.

Closely following this dispatch came a report from Berlin claiming that their troops had entered Salonika, and from Athens itself came the following terse, yet disquieting report:

"The German blitz has split Greek forces in two with a wedge driven down west of Salonika, trapping uncounted thousands of troops defending the line of the Truma river."

Right on the heels of this report, unpleasant to Americans who were hoping that the Nazi attack on northern Greece might be halted, came the word from London "German troops have entered Salonika following virtual evacuation of the port by Greek troops. British troops have not yet gone into action."

One of the five fronts on which the Germans attacked was around Skopje, in southwestern Yugoslavia, a vital railroad link between the Greek-British and Yugoslav forces. Early in the conflict German panzer divisions captured Skopje, and drove a wedge through the Vardar valley. The Germans reported taking more than 20,000 prisoners in this action, and radioed photographs showing long lines of truckloads of Serb and Croatian prisoners going along mountain roads, passing forward-moving Nazi divisions on the way.

While the United States, led by President Roosevelt's promises of sympathy and aid to Yugoslavia and Greece during this invasion, was watching with anxiety and hope for some more favorable news, the general tone of opinion was that the story of Poland and Finland was being rewritten before their eyes.

Americans interested in seeing something like this happen again scanned the news dispatches in vain for signs that the Nazi putsch was bogging down.

The shock of the fall of Salonika was matched by the shock to learn that the British forces were relatively small, but the fact that they were in a reported "second line" gave some measure of hope to those anxiously watching the defense that "something might happen" when the second line was reached and went into action.

FASCISTS:

Move in Africa

The war was not only taking a Nazi turn in Yugoslavia and Greece, but in northern Africa as well with combined Fascist-Nazi troops definitely on the forward move again.

As in a football game, the British had evidently "lost the ball," and unless the Nazis could hold the Fascists "for downs," there might be a drive to a touchdown in Libya.

It was odd that the reports of the advances in Libya by the Italo-German forces should have coincided with dispatches saying that Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell and large numbers of "picked troops" had been sent to Greece.

Whether this was true or not could not be learned, but if so, it was an interesting coincidence that the backward movement of the British in Libya tallied in time with the rumor that Wavell was gone to another field.

The British, in their forward drive, had gone past Sidi Barrani to Derna, and thence to Bengasi, the Libyan capital. Photos of British troops taking down street signs, putting up their own, and other reports tended to the belief that Italy was knocked out of the war in Africa and that it was "all over but the shouting."

Suddenly Berlin reported a minor success on the Libyan front, and then, with equal suddenness Britain began announcing that there would be withdrawals, that Wavell's forces would pick their own line of defense and fall back to that.

Came the fall of Bengasi, and then the fall of Derna, with the British still back-peddaling and fighting a rear-guard action all the way. In Eritrea and Ethiopia, however, the British continued their success, making mass attacks on Massaua, the sole remaining point of military importance.

'Royal' Eviction

OAKLAND, CALIF.—Otto de Bourbon Hapsburg, 65, who claims to be a pretender to the French throne; his daughter, 32, and two sons, 41 and 40, according to reports, were evicted from their house in Oakland for alleged non-payment of rent. Otto Leopold, the elder son, is shown above carrying part of his personal belongings.

STRIKES:

New Turn

Strike news continued sensational, but took somewhat a turn for the better, with the Dykstra Mediation board settling the Allis-Chalmers strike and making headway both on the threatened walkout against U. S. Steel and the big Ford strike at River Rouge.

But the news, while somewhat better from the standpoint of the national defense, was still disquieting enough. Most sensational of the stories was the claim that C.I.O. chieftains had been canvassing local unions throughout the United States seeking to find what sentiment, if any, there was for a general strike if the Bridges deportation move should be carried out.

The Bridges case was in the hearing stage when this move was uncovered in Washington when Sidney Hillman of OPM was asked by a house committee investigating the national defense program to investigate the report.

Mr. Hillman expressed surprise at the question and said he did not believe that any such move was being carried out. Mr. Hillman said that Philip Murray, president of the C.I.O. and chairman of the Steel Workers Organizing committee, would not tolerate a strike against the defense program.

This report by Mr. Hillman came just one day after Mr. Murray had made a surprise visit to the White House at the invitation of President Roosevelt, and then had made a flying trip to Detroit, and later had announced that the projected strike against U. S. Steel would be held in abeyance for a time, ostensibly to permit work by mediators and conciliators to avert the strike entirely.

The report came from a mediator in New York that part of the coal strike difficulties had been settled.

He said that the reopening of other mines had been delayed, and apparently the main difficulty was a difference in attitude between Northern and Southern Appalachian mine operators concerning the demands of the United Mine Workers.

The mediator said: "We are trying desperately to effect a complete accord and to stabilize this backbone industry for a period of two years." He also said that the schism between the two geographical portions of the operators group was causing the chief difficulty.

In the meantime there were signs that the mediation efforts in the Ford strike were bearing fruit, when Governor Van Wagoner of Michigan wired President Roosevelt as follows:

"Please do not approve certification of the Ford strike to the Defense Mediation Board before I have talked with you. I am in conference now with Philip Murray and James Dewey (the conciliator)."

This made it look, at least for the moment, as though some settlement of the dispute, which has tied up $155,000,000 in defense material, might be at hand.

SHIP AID:

On Move

The ships-for-Britain end of the aid law was well on the move, with the President formally seeking from congress the right to take possession of the 36 Danish merchantmen now in American waters.

Mr. Roosevelt said his advisers were convinced they had every right to take over the German and Italian ships, regardless of the protests of the two Axis governments.

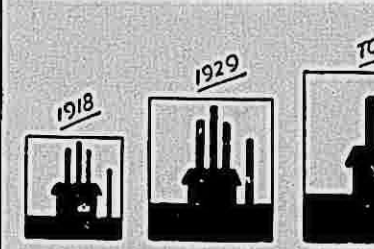

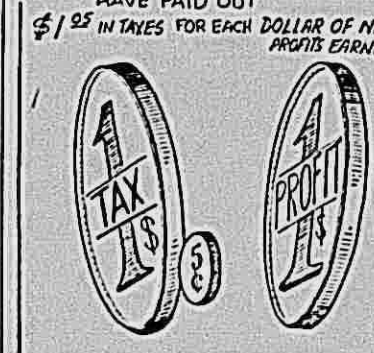

It was plain from the White House comment that the government proposed to combine the three groups of ships into one fleet, and in time to use the whole fleet in defense transport.

The government will go far, it was believed, to keep this line of transport open and under way until deliveries begin on the 950 new merchant ships now being constructed.

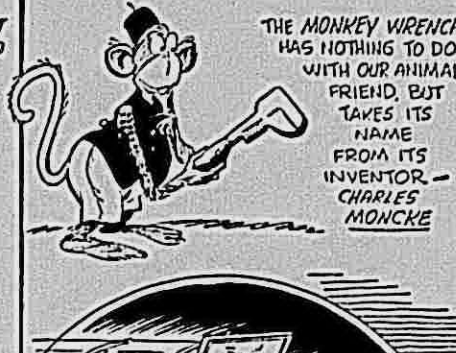

In addition, at the same time, the British announced that this country is turning over to them 10 United States coast guard cutters for aid in the war against Nazi subs.

HIGHLIGHTS... in the news

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—A Negro stole a car, and the police knew the car was gone, and figured he'd soon run out of gas and abandon it. But the car kept moving, and was reported here, there, everywhere. They couldn't figure where he was getting "gas" money. They found Uncle Sam was providing. The man had found a WPA courtesy card in the car and was using it to get credit—to buy gas.

NORFOLK, Va.—Coast guardsmen were dragging waters off the Eastern Shore of Virginia, seeking wreckage of a huge patrol bomber thought to have carried 10 navy men in its crew to their deaths. Bodies of some of the crew had been found, and others were sought. The men were making a simple transfer flight when the accident happened. The accident was being investigated by naval authorities.

Illimitable Income

TO LIVE within their income appears to present a difficult problem to many people. In numerous cases, the supply seems to be insufficient to meet even legitimate needs, and the ceaseless struggle to make ends meet and to keep out of debt robs human experience of its rightful measure of harmony and happiness. Such a state of affairs ought never to be submitted to unquestioningly, whatever the circumstances.

Nowhere in the Scriptures do we find authority for believing that God's will for His children is limitation and lack. On the contrary, we find that whenever men have humbly and trustfully turned to God for help, they have triumphantly come out of their troubles, no matter how hopeless the situation had appeared to be. God's love for His children has undergone no change. He is eternally our Father, and all may turn to Him in absolute confidence that He will answer their call for help, for did not the Master, speaking of the Christ, Truth, promise (John 14:13), "Whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son?"

Someone may say, I have asked God, most earnestly and for a long time, to bring me out of my financial difficulties, and I have received no answer. The asking which meets with no response is not prayer based on the spiritual understanding of God and of man's relationship to Him. A state of insufficient income arises from the mistaken belief that man is material, and that matter is substance.

Paul declared to the Athenians (Acts 17:28), "In him we live, and move, and have our being." Referring to Christ Jesus' words (John 10:30), "I and my Father are one," Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, writes on page 361 of her textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," "As a drop of water is one with the ocean, a ray of light one with the sun, even so God and man, Father and son, are one in being." Such inseparability of Parent and child can be truly conceived of only as that of infinite Mind and infinite idea.

The coming of spiritual ideas to human consciousness is illimitable, for God, divine Mind, is ceaselessly pouring forth His treasures of spiritual thought to sustain, support, and satisfy His children. The real man possesses true substance by reflection, for Mind, substance, is eternally present and knows no limitation or insufficiency. The application of these grand spiritual truths in human affairs should not be thought strange. The strange thing is that men have so unquestioningly accepted evil as a powerful, controlling factor in human experience.

Let all those who suffer the strain and stress of belief in insufficient income, lift their thought above anxious human planning and contriving, and let them turn their thoughts in a new direction. Let them ask God for childlike trust and receptivity, for calmness and courage, for an overflowing sense of gratitude and love, for wisdom and the clear spiritual vision which distinguishes between the real and the unreal. Then let them wait with confident expectancy, and the answer will come, even as it did in the father's sweet assurance to the elder brother of the prodigal son (Luke 15:31), "Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine."

All that God has is ours by reflection, and He is infinite Mind, divine Love. When the material income seems inadequate to meet the daily demands, let us remember that God alone is the source of supply. We must love God, good, above all else, acknowledge no substance or intelligence but divine Mind, and strive to reflect the divine nature and character in every detail of daily living. When the spiritual fact is seen and understood, unlimited good flows into human experience, and the false beliefs which have seemed to control us loosen their hold and fall away.

To the listening ear come spiritual intuitions, divine aspirations, holy thoughts of joy and gladness, and the wisdom to use the new-found good. The more one uses spiritual ideas, the more they multiply and abound. Thus one finds all his human needs supplied, and so proves the truth of Mrs. Eddy's words (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 367): "God gives you His spiritual ideas, and in turn, they give you daily supplies. Never ask for tomorrow: it is enough that divine Love is an ever-present help; and if you wait, never doubting, you will have all you need every moment."—The Christian Science Monitor.
